

Quality - Corporate Policy / Management's Statement

The client is the most important person for our company.

Satisfied customers, motivated employees and long-term sustainable growth are the declared goals of our company.

By using the multi-year experience of our parent company in the production and assembly of plastic injection moldings and assemblies, mainly for the automotive industry, we are well prepared to meet the quality and environmental requirements of our customer requirements and to develop a competitive advantage.

The identification of all employees with the quality features, the environment and the energy balance of the products and processes at every stage of the manufacturing process and compliance with technical and organizational workflows guarantee the implementation of the high quality requirements of our customers to the products to be delivered.

The preservation of resources and the responsible handling of energy are tasks of the company, together with the avoidance of personal injury and property damage, ensuring the safety of third parties, avoiding damage to the environment and setting priorities for safety during operation are the further key points of the corporate management.

The benchmark for our thinking and action is determined by both internal and external customers, legal and regulatory requirements and the expectations of society.

In the process of continuous improvement, the employees of the Injection Molding Prilep DOOEL therefore use all their expertise and their competence for the following long-term quality, environmental and energy targets as main corporate task, such as:

- the zero mistake strategy.
- Quality, environmental and timely fulfillment of our customer requirements.
- continuous improvement of product and process quality
- proposals to increase productivity and quality as well as to improve the environmental and energy-oriented performance
- Avoiding the internal rejects
- a good working environment - we maintain a cooperative approach, cleanliness and order as well as the mutual respect of all employees
- the certification of the QM system ISO 9001: 2015 continuously sustain

All employees are encouraged and instructed to fulfill their tasks with commitment and motivation regarding the quality, safety, health and environmental protection in their own interest, the interest of the customer and in the interests of our company and also to actively participate in the introduced management system.
